

Report on the experiment carried out on BM30A on the 24th of February, 2005

We actually started data collection around 11 am because of the center of the beam was not properly determined.

No other problems have been encountered during the rest of the beam time allocation.